Dr. Monica Gandhi

*Professor of Medicine & Associate
Chief, Division of HIV, Infectious
Diseases & Global Medicine,
University of California, San Francisco
(UCSF)*

About the Faculty:

Monica Gandhi is a Professor of Medicine and Associate Chief in the Division of HIV, Infectious Diseases, and Global Medicine at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). She is also the medical director of the large HIV clinic in San Francisco funded by the San Francisco Department of Public Health (DPH), the Ward 86 HIV Clinic. Research efforts have focused on HIV/AIDS in U.S. women and investigating objective methods to measure antiretroviral adherence and exposure in HIV treatment and prevention settings. Recent work has expanded to measuring adherence to anti-TB drugs in the context of latent and active TB infection. Dr. Gandhi also has an interest in HIV education and mentorship and is co-director of the UCSF Center for AIDS Research Mentoring Program.

Open to Principal Investigators, Investigators and Researchers from SJNAHS
