The Senior Citizen Health Service delivers outreach services for senior citizens, through the Department of Community Health, St John's Medical College. [We also have a Division of Geriatric Medicine, which runs thrice weekly outpatient clinics at St John's Hospital for senior citizens, on Mondays/Wednesdays/Fridays – Room no 56, 9 am -12.30 pm.]

The outreach services provided for senior citizens include:

A. Rural Geriatric Clinics

The Rural Outreach Clinics started in 2003-04 as a small, once monthly clinic catering to the elderly at Mugalur village, located around 35 kms from St John's. Today we have over 8 monthly clinics spread out in 8 villages and catering to elderly persons from over 50 villages in the vicinity. Recently, a clinic has also been started in Austin Town for the urban underprivileged elderly. See our 7-minute video at

B. Home Health Service

A team of a doctor and nurse visit seniors at their home once every month, following a package of registration and baseline assessment. Currently, about 50 seniors are registered with us, and we plan to expand this service to reach the urban underprivileged elderly as well.

C. Institutional (old age home) Support Service

A team of doctors and a nurse visit 3 old age homes every month, 2 of which cater to the poor and destitute elderly. All residents are seen, and inputs given for their basic medical care. About 250 residents in three old age homes are catered to in this manner.

Care of the senior citizens through these services involves managing chronic diseases which require lifelong medications, imposing a financial burden on them and their families. The Senior Citizen Health Service has been helping to ease this burden by providing free health consultations and generic/ subsidized drugs to these elderly persons, through donations from well-wishers and philanthropists.
