

Division of Nutrition

The division will accept students into doctoral programs for the year 2022 in 2 streams (Human Nutrition and Biological Sciences in Public Health). The division expects to admit 3 students.

Admissions will be restricted to students who have an active UGC NET (or equivalent) fellowship of 5 years with stipend.

Eligibility

Nutrition
<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Qualifying degree for Biological Sciences in Public Health<ol style="list-style-type: none">a. Master's degrees (MSc/MPhil/MPH/MTech) in Life Sciences:<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Biology, Microbiology, Biotechnology▪ Biochemistry, Medical biochemistry▪ Genetics▪ Health Sciences Candidates require to have undergone basic biochemistry and molecular biology training <ol style="list-style-type: none">2. Qualifying degree for Human Nutrition<ol style="list-style-type: none">a. Master's degrees (MSc/MPhil/MPH):<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Life Sciences▪ Foods and Nutrition▪ Public Health and Epidemiology

Areas of Research and Supervisors

Dr Arpita Mukhopadhyay	Biological Sciences in Public Health
-------------------------------	--------------------------------------

Dr Pratibha Dwarkanath	Public Health Nutrition
-------------------------------	-------------------------
